

Gen. Chiang Arrives In Imperiled Shanghai

Urges China To Resist Red Tyranny

Shanghai, April 27—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek arrived in this Red-menaced city today and urged all Chinese to fight "Communist tyranny."

His dramatic appeal came as two Communist columns moved toward Shanghai and another lanced deeper to the south to cut off the last rail lifeline to the rest of China.

It was a perilous time for Chiang, branded by the Reds as No. 1 "war criminal" to come to Shanghai from his southern retreat at Chikow. The retired president said he spoke only as a citizen.

Menaced By Two Columns
Shanghai was menaced by two columns bearing down on this greatest Asian metropolis from the west and northwest. Already they had taken Soochow, 50 miles to the west, without a fight.

The Shanghai garrison command said nationalist troops had taken up new positions six miles east of Soochow and that fighting was continuing. Thus the Reds might be only 44 miles west of Shanghai.

A third Communist column was slashing southward from Soochow for the rail junction city of Kashiung. Kashiung controls the railway from Shanghai to the escape port of Hangchow. This is the only rail line from Shanghai still in nationalist hands.

A report that Red guerrillas had taken Putung across the Whangpoo river from Shanghai's business heart was in error. Communist guerrillas were operating in the area but they had not taken over.

Misinterpreted Cable
(The error resulted from a misinterpretation of a cable from the Associated Press Bureau in Shanghai. The cable read: "Group Reds captured Putung across Whangpoo river from Shanghai.")

(Clarification from Shanghai later made it evident this sentence referred to attempts to take pictures of Red guerrillas who had been captured in Putung.)

Gendarmes prevented an Associated Press photographer from taking the pictures as the guerrillas were led through Shanghai streets. Three ships loaded with nationalist soldiers, their decks crowded with trucks and planes, left Shanghai, presumably for Formosa. It is on this island that nationalist China may make its last stand.

The withdrawal of foreigners from threatened Shanghai continued. The U. S. liner President Wilson is due to sail tomorrow with 250 Americans aboard, cutting the American colony here to about 1,800. Other Americans were leaving by plane. The U. S. navy closed its fleet post office.

65,000 United Auto Workers Threaten Strike At Ford Co.

By The Associated Press
The threat of a strike by 65,000 CIO United Auto Workers in Ford Motor Co. plants at Detroit became acute Wednesday.

Meanwhile, two unions representing 1,000,000 coal miners and electrical workers readied new contract demands.

A conference between Ford company and UAW representatives broke up without settling union "speedup" charges. The Ford auto workers have already voted to strike.

The union's international executive committee meets Thursday to pass upon strike sanction.

At the Wednesday conference, Ford officials denied there was a speedup on company assembly lines and warned the UAW a strike on the issue would be considered a contract violation.

At South Bend, Ind., federal mediators brought together officials of the UAW and Bendix Aviation Corp. for the first time since 7,500 production workers quit their jobs a week ago. The South Bend dispute resulted from the discharge of 41 Bendix workers charged by the company with a "slowdown."

Chiefs Of Police Meet In Canada

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 27—(AP)—State and provincial police administrators gathered today for a regional meeting of the International Association of Police Chiefs.

Delegations from Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and Wisconsin are attending the two-day sessions under the chairmanship of William H. Stringer Ontario provincial police commissioner.

Speakers include director Homer Ball of the Wisconsin State Police; Superintendent Arthur M. Thurston, Indiana State Police; Commissioner D. A. Leonard, Michigan State Police; and Colonel George M. Mingle, Ohio State Highway Patrol.

Swears Miss Coplon Carried 'Top Secrets'

Washington, April 27—(AP)—An FBI report, for a minute, I breezed through it rapidly. Remember very little.

"It was about 115 pages in length, summarized first Soviet 'intelligence' activities, including Martens, Lore, Poyntz, Altschuler, Silvermaster, et al."

"It had heading on Soviet U. S. delegation but that was all I remember. The rest of the report I think was on Polish, Yugo, etc. activities and possibly some info on CP, U. S. A."

The man "Michael" named as the person to whom she described her efforts was not further identified. William E. Foley was Miss Coplon's boss when she worked in the Justice department. The FBI, incidentally, has its headquarters in the Justice department building where Miss Coplon was employed.

Graville said the slips contained extracts from FBI reports on the operations of suspected espionage agents in the United States.

He said other memoranda found in the purse included a brief statement of Miss Coplon's post-graduate educational background. She is a Cum Laude graduate of Barnard College.

Furthermore, he said, it contained background information "concerning three potential recruits for espionage service."

Graville said the exact language of Miss Coplon's alleged account of her attempt to bag a prize FBI secret was as follows:

"I have not been able (and don't think I will) to get the top secret FBI report which I described to Michael on Soviet and Communist intelligence activities in the U. S."

"When the moment was favorable, I asked Foley where the report was (he previously had remarked that he'd seen such a report). He said that some department officials had it and he didn't expect to get it back."

"Foley remarked there was nothing 'new' in it. When I saw the Rule Of British Commonwealth Is Accepted By India

London Thursday, April 28—(AP)—India will stay in the British Commonwealth of Nations, a communication announced today.

The rich, sprawling dominion soon to become a Republic, has accepted the British crown as "the symbol of the free association" of the Independent Commonwealth members and, as such, the head of the Commonwealth.

The members plan to drop the term "dominion" altogether. The solution to one of Britain's most difficult family problems of recent times was developed during a week of talks here among Commonwealth leaders.

Attending were the prime ministers of the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Ceylon, Pakistan, South Africa and India and the external affairs minister of Canada.

The agreement was reached yesterday. The proposal was submitted to King George VI and then made public.

All of the dominions except India will continue to give individual allegiance to the British crown.

Elect Mrs. Rugh Head Of State PEO

Chicago, April 27—(AP)—The Illinois Chapter of P. E. O. Sisterhood today elected Mrs. Walter Rugh of Decatur its president. Other state officers elected at the annual business meeting are Mrs. R. T. Lee, Lockport, first vice president; Mrs. O. D. Corbridge, Rockford, second vice president; Mrs. W. W. Minear, Quincy, organizer; Mrs. W. Burl Dalton, Evanston, recording secretary; Mrs. L. C. Hazen, Galesburg, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Bonson, Oak Park, treasurer.

The significance of the sisterhood's initials is an organization secret.

Illinois Senate Split On Gasoline Tax Hike

Springfield, Ill., April 27—(AP)—Senators appeared evenly divided today in their opinion of newly-offered bills to boost the Illinois gasoline tax from three to five cents.

Fifteen of 34 senators, asked by a reporter, said they will vote for the increase. Fourteen said they will vote no. Five were undecided.

The bills are part of a long range highway program. They also call for raising automobile and truck license and driver license fees to help provide an extra $45,000,000 a year to improve state roads.

Asks To Return To Room Where He Spent 10 Years

New York, April 27—(AP)—The world Paul Makushak shunned for ten years closed in on him today. He didn't like it.

While psychiatrist sought to plumb his mind, Makushak, 33, pleaded to go back to the dark, filthy cubicle in the wall of a Brooklyn tenement house where he says he lived since 1939.

Police broke through the wall last night and fell back before the fetid air of the cubicle and the strange sight confronting them. Out crawled a massive man wrapped in filthy rags. A great fringe of curling dark hair almost covered his face. Full-pupiled dark eyes blinked at unaccustomed light.

He was stooped and barely able to stand after the ten years in his three-by-five foot cave. He had not bathed in ten years. His cubbyhole contained no sanitary facilities. Virtually all his time there he spent lying on a filthy pallet.

That was the Paul Makushak whom his tailor father, Peter, had not been since he went on an errand for him ten years ago.

His mother, who fed him and tended to his needs, guarded the secret of his existence until she was forced to go to a hospital yesterday.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said today there was no evidence of any crime since Makushak entered his living tomb voluntarily. He added that Makushak told him:

"If I'm released I want to go back to the room."

Meanwhile, U. S. Attorney Frank J. Parker and the FBI sought to learn if Makushak had gone in hiding to avoid the draft. If he had been there since 1939, as his father believed, he could not have crawled away to avoid the draft which was not enacted then.

On the other hand, his cubicle contained an old radio. But Makushak claimed he knew nothing about the war. He said he didn't care how the world was running. He spent his time sleeping and practicing short hand.

Litter Of 19 Pigs Will Be Weaned; Weigh 700 Pounds

Decatur, Ill., April 27—(AP)—A litter of 19 pigs will be weaned Saturday and farmer Harold Morris of Decatur figures they'll set a record of some kind.

Morris believes the litter will weigh in at more than 700 pounds. That's bigger than any litter he has ever heard about, he says.

The farmer isn't sure that records have been kept of the world's largest litter, but he feels he has a candidate for the title.

The pigs, registered Yorkshire swine, were farrowed March 5, 1949. It was the third litter for the dam, H. R. Lou 7. Ardyne Famous was the sire.

Dr. J. L. Kridler, head of the University of Illinois College of agriculture swine division, said the largest litter he knows about weighed 670 pounds at weaning. It was a litter of 12 farrowed by Poland China sows owned by Ole Niehaus, of Mower County, Minn.

Dr. Kridler said the average litter normally is eight or nine. He said normally only 65 per cent of the litter lives to the weaning age, 56 days.

State 33 Editors Received Salaries From Gov. Green

Chicago, April 27—(AP)—The Chicago Daily News and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch have said 33 Illinois newspaper editors received state salaries during the administration of Dwight H. Green, Republican.

The newspapers reported on a search of state payrolls since 1942. The study was made by reporters for the two papers.

Green, who was defeated by a Democrat, Adlai E. Stevenson, in November and left office in January, said the payments made to the editors were for work done during his eight-year administration.

Both the News and the Post-Dispatch supported Stevenson's successful candidacy. They reported their payroll findings April 14.

The two newspapers said the payrolls listed more than $305,000 paid to newspaper editors since 1942, and an additional $108,183 paid to relatives of editors, or columnists and other newspaper employees. They said the records did not include payments made before 1943.

Most of the editors, asked for comment today, said they worked for their money. Several added they had "no apologies to make." Some declined comment.

Chicago Woman Is Hacked To Death In Her Apartment

Chicago, April 27—(AP)—Police Capt. Patrick O'Connell said today he believes Mrs. Hazel Grinde, 57, was hacked to death in her apartment last night by someone she knew.

O'Connell said fragments of the widow's shattered eyeglasses were found near the front door as well as on the blood-smeared bathroom floor where the body was found.

Acheson Asks Senate Ratify Defense Pact

Washington, April 27—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson brought basic east-west differences into sharp focus today, saying that even if the western powers reach an agreement with Russia on Berlin there still will be need for the North Atlantic defense pact.

The 20-year security treaty deals with a "much larger problem," Acheson said as he urged speedy Senate approval of the pact as a way "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The secretary of state told the Senate Foreign Relations committee the "only attractive" way to deal with war is to "prevent the war from happening."

To that end Acheson asked the lawmakers to endorse this country's role in the alliance and to provide a $1,450,000,000 arms program to make the treaty "more effective" against any threat of aggression.

Acheson's comments on the current efforts to arrive at a peaceful settlement of the Berlin dispute came at the end of his day-long testimony before the senate group.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) raised this point, asking whether the treaty "would still be necessary" in the event the blockade deadlock were broken. To this Acheson replied:

"In my judgment it will be necessary."

Acheson spoke out sharply against what he said is the "tendency" of some people in this country to feel that the United States should "go down or up" depending upon the amount of heat Russia stirs up in the cold war. This is delegating the responsibility for American foreign policy to other nations, he said.

"I feel this is a most unwise way of proceeding," Acheson said, adding that the nation should go ahead "calmly" with its own plans and not be influenced by "peace offensives," or a "war of nerves."

Questioning by the senators produced these other highlights:

1. Assurance that the pact does not call for dispatch of U. S. forces overseas prior to any attack against an alliance member.

2. No "ring of steel" will be erected around the Soviet Union or any group of nations opposed to the western powers' peace program.

3. The United States must continue its own preparedness program without sacrificing its own needs to help other pact members rearm.

4. The European Recovery Program has priority over the military assistance project, Acheson said. "Production of arms must be held to a minimum," he said so as not to interfere with the economic rehabilitation drive.

Youths Who Shot Teacher Held For Grand Jury

Arthur, Ill., April 27—(AP)—Two boys accused of shooting a country school teacher after they were spanked for writing notes were held for the Moultrie county grand jury today.

Lloyd Titus, 16, and Glen Phillips, 11, were held for the grand jury by Justice of the Peace Wallace Stokes at nearby Sullivan on charges of assault with intent to commit a felony (theft of an automobile).

The boys entered no plea to the charges in Stokes' court. Stokes set bond at $10,000 for Titus, alleged to have fired the shot, and $5,000 for Phillips. They were unable to post bond and were held in the Moultrie county jail at Sullivan.

Joseph E. Munch, state's attorney, said he would ask that the grand jury be recalled as soon as possible. He said that if the grand jury indicts the two boys on the felony charge, they will be tried in circuit court. He said conviction might result in a penalty of from one to 20 years in prison.

Agiculture Dept. Proposes Formula For Class 4 Milk

Washington, April 27—(AP)—The agriculture department proposed a new formula today for determining producer prices of class IV milk in the so-called "quad cities" marketing area.

This area includes Davenport, Iowa, and the Illinois cities of Rock Island, Moline and East Moline. Class IV milk is that portion of the supply used for making butter, cheese and casein.

The department said the present formula is not satisfactory because it uses the price of casein in determining the producer price of this class of milk. Casein manufacture has declined during recent years.

The new formula would use the price of cheese for determining the milk price. The producer price for 8.4 lbs. of class IV milk would be 100 times the price of cheese.

Jessup Talks With Russian Ambassadors

New York, April 27—(AP)—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup asked the Russians today to let the western powers exactly what are their terms for lifting the Berlin blockade.

The Russians then started work on their answer. When it will come is anybody's guess.

That sums up the formal and informal reports on a 92-minute meeting today between Jessup and two Soviet deputy foreign ministers, Andrei A. Gromyko and Jakob A. Malik.

Held In Secrecy
The conversations were held under unusual secrecy on the second floor of the ornately furnished Russian delegation offices on upper Park avenue.

At the end of the talk, which extended through lunch time, Jessup left a written communication with Gromyko and Malik. Informed quarters said the communication was intended to draw from the Soviet government its precise views on what can be done about the blockade and to put the whole talks on a formal basis.

Jessup had nothing to say when he left the meeting.

Diplomatic sources described the Jessup message variously during the day as a note, a communication, and a written memorandum.

Not A Diplomatic Note
An American delegation spokesman explained that it was not a "note" in the usual diplomatic sense. He said usually at this stage in negotiations the ambassador reads a prepared statement and then leaves a copy on the table when he departs.

A few minutes after Jessup departed, Gromyko left for a United Nations committee meeting at Lake Success.

Malik stayed inside the Russian building where he lives.

No one would say when the next meeting would be held. But American sources previously have explained that the talks so far are entirely informal and meetings can be arranged by a telephone call at any time.

Jessup talked over the meeting with Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain, and Jean Chauvel, France, at the U. S. delegation offices.

Investigate Death Of Sleep Walker Who Took Poison

Macomb, Ill., April 27—(AP)—The death of a man whose sister said he apparently took poison while sleepwalking was being investigated today by the McDonough county coroner.

Clifford Lomax, 42, a railroad switchman and World War II veteran, died last night in St. Francis hospital of liver poisoning. Coroner Verne V. Roberts, who ordered an inquest, said Lomax' sister, Lelah, gave this account:

Lomax, who made his home with her at nearby Bushnell, awakened her about 2 a.m. Tuesday and complained of great pain.

"I had a bad dream and tried to kill myself," she quoted him. "I don't know why I did it. I don't know why I did it."

She called another brother, Len. They found Clifford had opened a can of lye in the kitchen and apparently had taken some of it. He was removed to the hospital, where he died.

RAID TAVERN
Canton, Ill., April 27—(AP)—Sheriff's officers investigating several west central Illinois burglaries raided the Doodiebug tavern, and confiscated its cigar and cigarette stock today.

The proprietor, Jack Shelton, was detained without charge for questioning.

BONUS CHECKS
Chicago, April 27—(AP)—Two hundred sixty Illinois soldier bonus checks worth a total of $109,298.82 were mailed yesterday. To date the state has paid out $309,161,228.20 among 420,159 war veterans from downstate and 431,199 from Cook county.

U.S. Ends Export Bans On Surplus Products

Washington, April 27—(AP)—With its shortages rapidly turning into surpluses all along the line, the United States today made a wide group of goods available to the world—including Russia—free from export license controls.

But trade experts quickly predicted that (1) Russia will take few if any of these goods because they aren't what Russia wants and (2) other countries won't buy a great deal more of them because they haven't got the dollars.

ROYALL WAS TOO INDIVIDUALISTIC
ON SEVERAL MATTERS OF POLICY

Judging from some of his speeches Kenneth Royall is an individualist who, as secretary of war and later of the Army, spoke first as Kenneth Royall and second as a member of the government. As a consequence the official Mr. Royall found himself with his foot in his mouth on a couple of embarrassing occasions.

There was the time that he offered the off-hand opinion that the Army would not try to defend Japan if it was invaded. The fact that maybe the Army couldn't defend it successfully did nothing to quiet the shocked and angry protests that followed his remark. Nor did the official denials that followed do much to inspire public confidence.

More recently the retired secretary came forth with the news that western European leaders wanted more American ground forces on the continent, though where and how many was not disclosed. These were not the only times that Mr. Royall dealt policy off the cuff. But they probably represent the most momentous subjects which he handled in casual independent fashion.

This is said out of no disrespect for a man with a splendid record in two wars. As a member and sub-member of the Cabinet, he apparently worked hard and left the Army in good shape. We bring these instances up as evidence that Mr. Royall's attitude toward matters requiring high-level, co-ordinated decision is typical of the general attitude of the three armed services under "unification."

The final decision on whether America would try to defend Japan in event of war would hardly seem to be up to the Army. Its recommendations might count most heavily in that final decision but they would be made—or should be made—only after consultation and agreement with the other services.

To announce the alleged decision, as Mr. Royall did, was scarcely in the country's best interests. But if the announcement was necessary then surely the President and Commander in Chief, or at least the secretary of defense, was the logical person to do the announcing.

Mr. Royall's disclosure of the request for more ground troops and his hint of favorable disposition toward it, had even less justification. Here he was discussing what might be one of the most fateful moves that this government could make, short of a declaration of war. Its implications covered the whole range of American policy as well as practical questions of tremendous scope. Yet it was tossed as a sort of vague aside into some of Mr. Royall's testimony before a congressional committee.

We do not look for any more such slips under Defense Secretary Johnson. Perhaps there will be. But the way he has been cracking the whip and getting things done indicates that things are going to be different around the department under its new boss.

It has been urged that the secretary of defense be given greater authority in the interest of efficiency, economy and real unity. No doubt he needs it. But one gets the idea that even under the present setup Mr. Johnson will see to it that the lines of command and responsibility are stronger and more clearly defined.

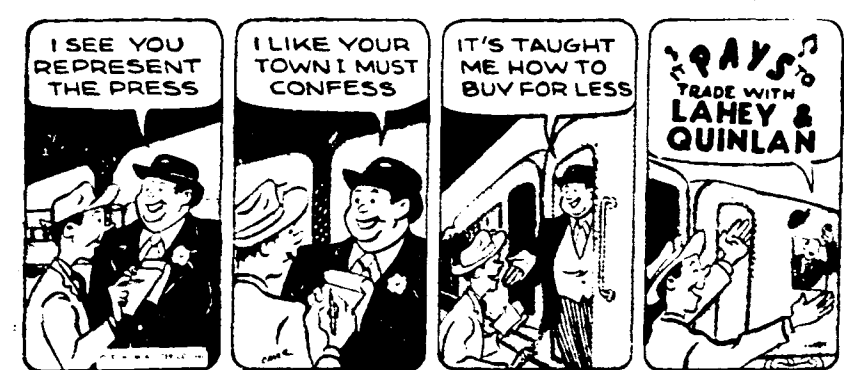

Under these circumstances we think that a man of Mr. Royall's temperament will be happier out of the government. Some of his former associates may reach the same conclusion about themselves. For it seems evident from his present pace that Secretary Johnson is out to make short work of jealously bickering, cross-purposes and publicity contests among the services. Here's hoping he doesn't slow down.

The Story Of 'Slinky'—Or
Fortune In A Wire Spring

By Hal Boyle

New York—P.—If you ever had an idea and tried to turn it into money, the story of Dick James may interest you.

He taught a piece of coiled wire to walk downstairs. Now it makes him an excellent living.

James, a 31-year-old former machine engineer, is the inventor of "Slinky," a revolutionary new mechanical toy.

"Slinky" is nothing but a 78-foot piece of high carbon clock-spring steel wire arranged in 92 coils. He looks like an old-fashioned bed-spring pressed flat—so the coils touch.

But Slinky can do things. A child can take him in his hands and play the coils back and forth like a silent accordion. Put Slinky on the top of a staircase and flip his top coil over, and Slinky will coil and uncoil his way down the stairs like a rhythmic snake.

2,500,000 Sold So Far
"He changed my whole life," said James, who has sold 2,500,000 Slinkys and expects to market another 1,000,000 this year.

Simple as the gadget is, it took James several years of hard work to make it a success.

Back in 1943 he was working in a Philadelphia shipyard. He began fooling with some round elastic wire used to suspend meters that registered the horsepower output of ship machinery.

"The coils of round wire wouldn't stand up," he said. "So just for fun I had the company make me up a couple of dozen samples of flat wire."

Major P. N. Martin, chief of the field division of the Selective Service System, said during a visit in Jacksonville Wednesday morning that the law which requires young men to register within five days after reaching their 18th birthday is in full effect, and that it is the duty of local boards to carry out the provisions of the act.

"It is still essential that all who have reached their 18th year go to their local boards within five days and offer themselves for registration," Major Martin stated. "This will be necessary during the continuance of the Selective Service Act, which at present does not expire until June, 1950."

Major Martin conferred with members of the Morgan county Selective Service Board at the court house. He said many boards in Illinois are utilizing the service of reserve officers in completing their clerical work.

State Officers
To Visit O.E.S.
At Carrollton

Carrollton—Mrs. Eleanor Hodgson, the worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois, and the members of her official family will be guests of Temple Chapter No. 325, O.E.S. at a banquet, a regular meeting and program to be given Tuesday evening, May 3.

The banquet will be served in the dining room of the Methodist church, with the meeting of the chapter and the program to be given in the Masonic Temple.

This is the first time within the history of the Carrollton chapter of the Eastern Star that they have been honored by a visit of the worthy grand matron.

In addition to the members of Temple Chapter who will attend the banquet and program, guests have been invited from the Eastern Star chapter in Jerseyville, Kane, White Hall, Roodhouse, Greenfield, Carlinville, Scottville, Palmyra, Nokomis, Hillview, Grafton, Hardin, Winchester, and Chesterfield.

The Navy flying boats, MARS, flew an average 7.97 hours per day in 1948.

"It wasn't until the next year that I learned I could make the coils walk downstairs. My son Tom and the other kids in the neighborhood were fascinated."

Resistance To New Idea
"I gave one coil to a boy in bed with the mumps. His parents said he had had so much fun with it I should sell the coils as toys. And my wife Betty, who thought I was foolish to spend two years tinkering with wire springs, agreed."

But James found then how much resistance there is in the world against a new idea.

"The toy people wanted no part of Slinky," he laughed. "Finally one department store agreed to let me use one end of a counter for an evening if I'd demonstrate the toy myself."

Carrollton Man To Serve Two Years In Azores

Carrollton—Lieut. Albert Scott, who has been stationed at Fairfax Field, Kansas City, for the past several months is being transferred the middle of May to the Azores where he will be stationed for two years.

Lieut. Scott will arrive here Saturday for a furlough of two weeks duration, which he will spend with his wife and son and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Scott. His brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Scott, and children of Tulsa, Okla., will also arrive here Saturday to spend their vacation with Lieut. Scott before he leaves.

Lieut. Scott's wife and son plan to join him in the Azores shortly and remain with him during his two years of service there.

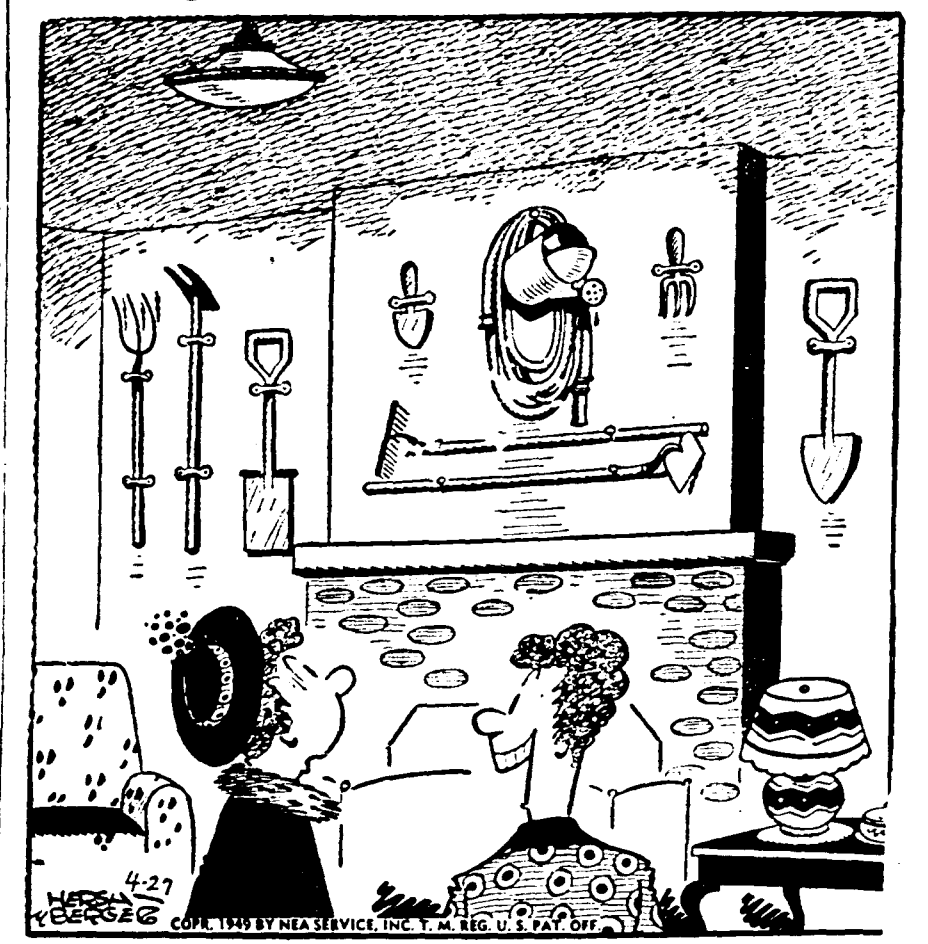

During World War II Lieut. Scott served with the U. S. Army Air Corps, spending many months in both the Pacific and the European war zones, flying a number of missions in the battle areas.

Upon his discharge Lieut. Scott graduated from Shurtleff college, Alton, and took a special course at the University of Missouri, after which he entered into business with his father, the editor of the Carrollton Gazette.

Several months ago Scott reenlisted in the Army Air Corps and has been stationed at Kansas City since that time, with Mrs. Scott and son remaining in their home here.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How We Licked The Parking Problem

For a while it looked like we'd have to put up parking meters. Folks working in town—including some of the store owners—were taking up all of the space along Main Street.

Farmers coming in to shop never found a place to park, and sometimes had to lug stuff a half mile or so. Some started to do their buying in other towns. Finally, store owners and farmers had a get-together—with the result that the empty field near the depot was fixed up for all-day parkers.

done comfortably, and the merchants have a better place to park than they had before. Just took a little friendly co-operation to make everybody happy.

From where I sit, most differences can be ironed out by just talking things over—maybe with a cup of coffee or glass of beer—and seeing the other person's side of it. Next time you have a problem or a little difference to settle, why not try just that?

Ways to Save

If you were a descendent of the mutineers of the "Bounty," who married native girls and settled on Pitcairn Island, your "wealth" would be turtle meat. You would say the surplus food from turtle hunts by filling coconut shells with the meat preserved in turtle fat. Your meat "savings" could be bartered for clothing, shelter or other food, just like we save and use money here.

At Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association your savings are safe, and they steadily grow because of the profit they earn, and you are not constantly tempted to use them in a feast. It's easy and pleasant to save money at Jacksonville Savings & Loan Association. Stop in and let us explain.

Loretta Biermann, Bernard W. Dolan Wed At Jerseyville

Jerseyville—Bouquets of white gladioli entwined with ferns, and burning Cathedral tapers in branched candleabra, adorned the high altar of the Church of the Holy Ghost in Jerseyville Wednesday morning for the wedding of Miss Loretta Biermann, daughter of Tony J. Biermann of Jerseyville, and Bernard W. Dolan of Salem, Mo. The Rev. Paul P. Heinen, pastor, officiated at the double-ring service and was celebrant of the nuptial Mass which followed. Miss Cornelia Biermann was matron of honor for her sister, and the bridesmaids were Miss Helen Biermann, another sister of the bride, and Miss Lucille Dolan of Evansville, Indiana, sister of the groom. ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

XXXIII

CLAUDIA didn't have to waste much breath telling me how she and Mickey—he was a pilot in a bomber group—had been transferred here and could find only an unheated tourist cabin to live in, without modern plumbing.

I gallumphed upstairs top speed to show her the guest room which still contained my double bed but which I was now glad—nay, eager—to give up to her and Mickey. Breathless, I promised them all the clean linen they wanted, the use of the whole house, my white satin, lace monogrammed blanket cover, a bedside radio, $5000, and the drugstore—if they'd just move in and stay.

Mickey came that evening to look us over. He was as freckled as Claudia was fair, as gangling as she was svelte, as faded and wiry haired as she was silky and glowing, and as quiet and unresponsive as she was ebullient.

"Not a bad go-down," he said to Claudia. Directing her attention to me with a toss of his unruly hair, he added, "Fix it up."

As I set the dining-room table for dinner the next evening, I heard hands squeaking on the banister as Bill's used to do when he gripped it hard on an unwilling ascent to bed. Looking out, I saw Mickey moving slowly down and toward the front door on his way out with Claudia to have dinner. "That boy didn't want to go out to eat," I told Roger and Rob as I served them.

"That's his tough luck," Roger said.

Roger or no Roger, next morning I told Claudia that we were not going to be home for dinner that night and that she could get in lamb chops, new potatoes, and frozen peas—or whatever she liked, for that matter—and prepare dinner for Mickey in my kitchen if she wished. She wished. And to my astonishment, she invited Robbie and me to have dinner with her and Mickey in our house the following night: they'd had a gift of a frozen roast of venison and they'd like to share it with us.

Leaning on my elbows, full of good food, I remarked, "You children like home life, don't you?"

"Oh, yes," Claudia gurgled. "We love it."

"It's too bad we're so much older or we might run a community kitchen," I said.

"You're not much older," Mickey lied stoutly. "Anyone'd take you for my sister."

"And we wish you would let us live here with you," Claudia added beseechingly.

ROGER was out; we could talk freely. We arranged to take turns doing the housekeeping: Claudia had got dinner that night; tomorrow I would. We'd halve the bills at the end of the month, and either side could have company on its night to cook. We worked this arrangement for the first 18 months the children lived with us, and though Claudia was a better cook than I, she continually flattered me by taking down notes on my recipes. Of course, we dropped our soiled clothes down the same chute, washed them in the same tubs and ironed them up on the same mangle. Claudia belonged to our denomination and we attended church together.

Roger was the livid one. For a few days after our new arrangement went into effect, he came hopefully home in time for dinner just as usual; but gradually, unable to fit into the family circle, and possibly a little in awe of Mickey—it was difficult for a captain in Headquarters Company to tellingly lord it over a man who had flown the shuttle in Europe and was now headed for the South Pacific—he stopped coming to the table.

ROGER grumbled that it seemed darn queer to him that first we had Betty and Dick and their baby (still had) in the basement; then the Cappers and the two boys upstairs. What was the matter with his family? Mary and the boys were as homeless as Wandering Jews, just visiting one parent and then the other, and Mary was getting pretty darn tired of it. I almost had to pinch myself to remind myself I wasn't cheating him.

Eventually Colonel Hartwicke solved the problem for us. Thinking too many GI's attached to bases in this country didn't appreciate what war was about or like, he ordered all men under his command at Gore Field to move into barracks and observe front-line discipline.

Claudia and Mickey had been living with us for some months when a Big Event occurred. It wasn't the little girl they expected, but a little boy and her name was Mike.

It has never failed to impress me that the toughest-looking men so often have the tenderest hearts. Mickey took his turn getting up nights with Mike, just the same as Claudia did. "You have to wait on him all day," he explained. One evening when they wheeled him out in his carriage, Claudia pushed me to the door, and when it came round to her turn, he wouldn't give over.

"I almost never get to wheel him," Mickey complained, and clung tightly to the carriage handle. Holding Mike like a monkey cuddling its young, the red whiskers of his bare chest looking ape-like beyond the smooth white skin of the baby, Mickey would tuck the child's head under his chin and rub gently to and fro over it. "Isn't hair?" he would say, referring to the fuzz appearing on Mike's scalp. "It's silk." Hugging the baby to him, he would wink at whoever was looking and say, "Awful loose and no more pernatality than an oyster, but I like him."

5 doctors prove this plan breaks the laxative habit
If you take laxatives regularly—here's how you can stop!
Because 5 New York doctors now have proved you may break the laxative habit. And establish your natural powers of regularity. Eighty-three per cent of the cases tested did it. So can you.

Stop taking whatever you now take. Instead, every night for one week take 2 Carter's Pills. Second week—one each night. Third week—one every other night. Then—nothing! Every day: drink eight glasses of water; set a definite time for regularity.

Five New York doctors proved this plan can break the laxative habit.

How can a laxative break the laxative habit? Because Carter's Pills "unblock" the slow digestive tract and from then on let it make use of its own natural powers.

Further—Carter's Pills contain no habit-forming drugs.

Break the laxative habit... with Carter's Pills... and be regular naturally.

Worry, overeating, overwork make you irregular temporarily—take Carter's Pills temporarily. And never get the laxative habit.

Get Carter's Pills at any drugstore for 35¢ today. You'll be grateful the rest of your life.

Jacksonville H. S. Gives Course In Safe Driving

BY CARL PEMPEK

(Instructor in Driving Course at Jacksonville High School)

Did you notice that flash of light when you went through that stop sign? You probably didn't think anyone was looking. Did you park your car correctly when you're not making space enough for two cars at the parking meter?

Pictures of traffic violators are pouring in to the drivers training class which show practices which are not conducive to safe driving practices. Surveys, too, are an important part of our program. Students stand at corners to check drivers that do not make complete stops at corners. They also check you as a pedestrian. Pictures are taken of good and bad pedestrian and driving habits within our own community.

Last semester a survey was taken. This survey was posted for two hours. Place—South Clay and Franklin.

Date—Dec. 5, 1948.

Time—12:30-1:30 & 4:00-5:00 p.m.
Out of the 78 cars counted, 46 made a complete stop, 14 did not make a stop, and 18 made a half-way stop. No hand signals were given.

On March 5, 1949, another survey was taken at the same times. Fifty-eight cars were counted. Seventy-five cars made a complete stop, 17 made a half-way stop, and 18 did not stop at all. Our students are quick to notice faults of others, (of course they too have many faults because they are beginners), but our program calls for the cooperation of every mature person driving a car in Jacksonville. Your faults or your good habits can be picked up by our students. With the cooperation of all citizens we can give them training in or out of school which will eventually level to a higher per cent of good drivers.

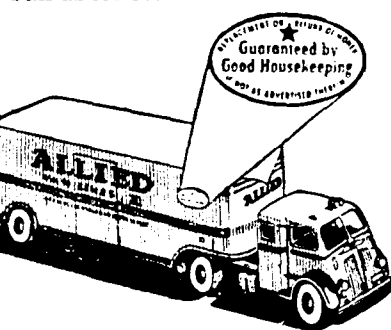

The value of our course cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Our method of measuring the validity of our course is by life, limb and property. The grief and sorrow that befalls a family when a member of that family is killed or permanently injured due to the carelessness of a poor driver is never fully realized until that poor driver feels the effect of an accident to one of his or her loved ones.

As a last thought and one which should guide your driving habits, let's look into a bedroom of an average family. The father and mother of the little girl stare blankly at the place on the bed where the little girl's two little legs should be. No amount of money can restore those legs and no large amount of money can make up the grief and sorrow that lies in the hearts of those two parents.

So please, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, BE CAREFUL!

Whether you're moving in town or to a distant city, we offer the finest in worry-free moving service. Our local storage and moving facilities are unequalled. Boy's Bike Stolen Twice In 10 Days

Gary Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayes, 650 South Kosciusko street, is having tough luck with his bicycle. It has been stolen twice within ten days, and the last time hasn't been recovered.

Gary's bicycle disappeared from its parking place in the business district on Easter, but was found by police and returned to the owner.

On Tuesday evening Gary went to the Illinois Theatre to see the show. When he went to get his bicycle it was gone. He told police it is a blue and white J. C. Higgins bicycle, and hopes they have as much luck finding it now as the first time it was stolen.

Pirates Move Into Tie For 1st Place By 7-1 Victory Over Cards

St. Louis, April 27.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates pushed in four runs in the first inning, then went on to a 7-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight. Murry Dickson, huffed the Pirate victory as the club moved into a first place tie with the New York Giants in the National League.

The game was marred by four errors—one of them a two-run bobbie by Stan Musial in that opening frame.

Pirate shortstop Stan Rojek was struck in the head by a pitched ball in the ninth inning. He walked about 25 steps then collapsed, unconscious.

The lone Redbird run came in the second on a walk to Nippy Jones, a single by Ed Kazak and an error by Rojek.

Chicago, April 27.—(AP)—Hogs and cattle generally were steady to 25 cents higher today while lambs were 25 to 50 cents up. The closing steer market, however, was slow and steady to weak.

Butcher hogs grading good and choice sold mostly from $16.50 to $18.35 and a top mark of $18.50. Sows took $13.75 to $16.00 with a few meriting up to $16.25.

A load of high-choice steers rated a top of $28.00 and two loads judged choice took $27.50. Most medium to choice kinds were $22.00 to $26.50. Choice heifers made $25.50 to $25.75 and good to low-choice material ranged from $23.50 to $25.00. Medium beef cows brought up to $18.75, good sausage bulls to $22.25, and choice vealers to $25.00.

Woolled lambs topped at $29.75 and clips at $25.50.

Receipts included 8,000 hogs on sale, 8,000 cattle, 500 calves and 3,000 sheep.

Chicago, April 27.—(AP)—A demand for steel shares held the market to the higher side today by a slim margin.

Early brisk trading, in which a number of blocks of stock changed hands, helped push volume to the rate of 900,000 shares for the day.

Airtracs were a soft spot in the market.

Steels at their best were more than a point higher, but some profit taking trimmed down the gains.

Buying interest in steels came from U. S. Steel Corp. action yesterday in raising the quarterly dividend to $1.50 a share from $1.25 previously paid.

Some brokerage quarters laid the weakness in aircraft shares to the government action in halting work on the giant navy carrier, United States, and to the interpretation that the development may mean a curtailment in naval aviation.

Stocks moving up included U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Goodrich, Transcontinental & Western Air, and Caterpillar.

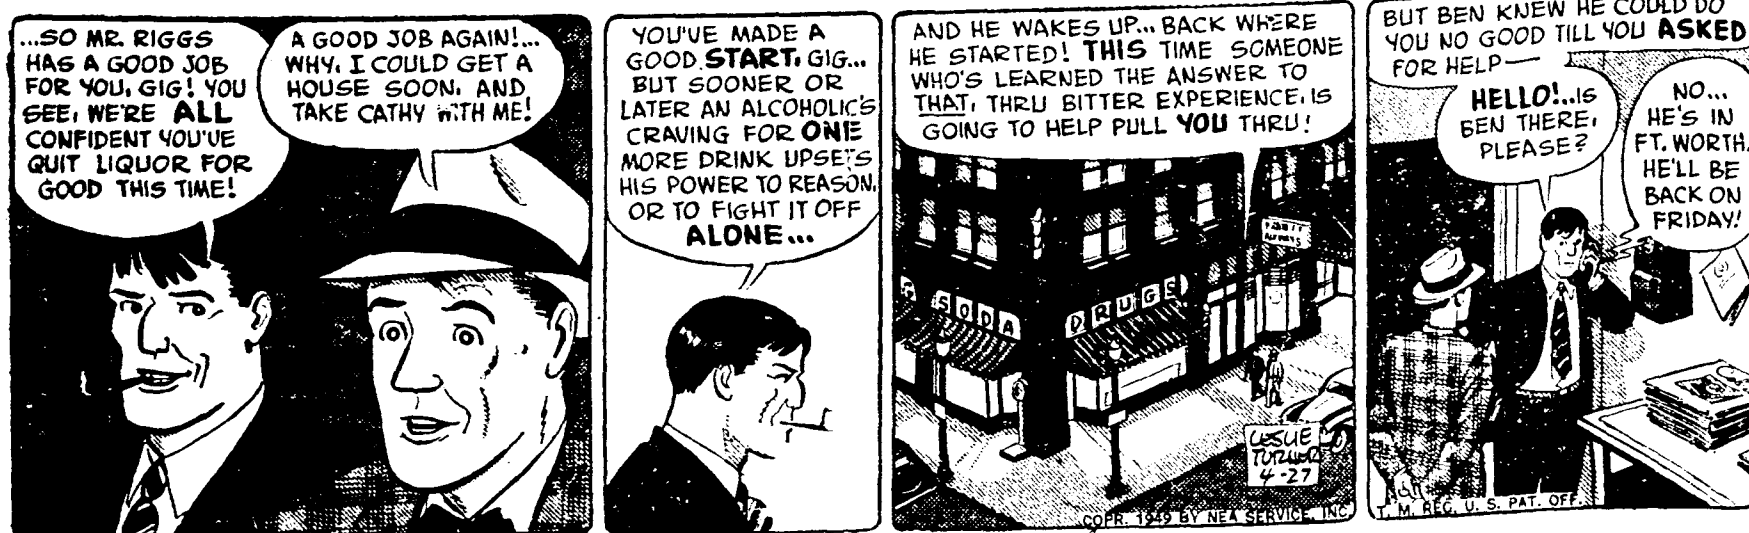

On the downside were Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Bonds were quiet and about unchanged. U. S. Government securities in the over-the-counter market were steady.

Commission Loses Fight To Extend Cook Co. Jury

Springfield, Ill., April 27—(P)—The Chicago crime commission today lost a round in its legislative fight to extend the life of Cook county grand juries to six months.
